before you travel...

have a read through the following pages to check you have what you need for what we hope will be the best week of your life. travel has certainly eased up but we still encourage you to check all requirements

...and remember to check your passport is valid and send us your flight details if you have not already

pre-travel checklist

Travel insurance

Please ensure your policy covers sailing, and if asked, you will not be sailing more than 12 miles offshore (its a typical exclusion) at any time throughout the week.

Packing list

Swimmies and sunnies are your basics, but we've got a handy list of things you might want to bring to fully enjoy the armada experience.

see here

Travel regulations

Although travel regulations across the globe are easing (yay!), it is still important that you check with your airline and final destination for any paperwork you need.

getting to base

the closest airport to our base is Split Airport. You can also fly to Zadar or Dubrovnik, which means a longer transfer in Croatia, but prices are often cheaper. From here...

taxi

Metered taxis operate from the airport. The journey to our base will cost around 400 - 500 kuna (£30 - £40). Uber is also pretty reliable and normally much cheaper!

more info

bus from split

A local bus runs from Split Airport to Split Town. See information signs in the airport. The journey time is around 45 minutes and costs around 100 kuna (£8)

info here

bus from zadar

If flying into Zadar Airport, a bus from Zadar to Split takes around 2 hours and costs approximately £20 per person.

transfers

JamTransfer is a multi-national company dedicated to airport taxi and transfer services if you would prefer to book in advance

 Check in opens at 2pm on Saturday afternoon but yachts are often not ready until 4-5pm. If you get there early, relax with a drink in the sunshine

 If you're arriving after 7pm, we will be in touch to arrange your check in Checkout...we will return to base by 3pm on Friday afternoon. You must be off your yacht by 9am on the Saturday morning (you can stay on it Friday night)

money
money

At check-in you'll need to pay your 600 Kuna arrival fee to cover mooring fees, diesel & tourist tax for your week. This can be paid in Kuna (600kn) or Euro (€80). Cash machines are readily accessible and widely available. ATMs usually accept standard international credit and debit cards including Visa and Mastercard and travel cards including Monzo.

£1 = 8.5 kuna

your floating home

Your yacht is your home for the week, and unless you packed Dobby the house elf in your suitcase, keeping it clean and tidy is down to you. It's pretty simple- leave it just as you found it.

The charter companies will charge an additional cleaning fee if the yachts are returned in a poor state, so keep your yacht clean and tidy throughout the week to save a big cleaning job one your final morning.

Also, remember when the sails go up on a yacht, the yacht leans to one side, so anything not secured can fall into the sea. Therefore, it's best practice to put everything away in your cabin once you've finished using it, to save mess or damage to belongings while out on the water.

remember to fly your flag high

And follow the armada floating soundtracks to play out on deck; a different beat for different times of the day

thursday on armãda is the flag parade

and your opportunity to get fancy

in a fancy dress kinda way

On Thursdays, we get ready creative, sparkly & fun on armada. It's when we set sail as The Parade of Flags... think of a regatta with lots of colour and some healthy competition. For those who fancy getting fancy, we encourage your adventurous style. Whether that be the trusty togas, sailing super heros or mystical mermaids, choose your vibe and live your best lives. Prizes will be awarded to the best crew.

And to make this day even better, it's all for a good cause. Participating boats will be asked to make a donation to Surfers against Sewage raising money for a great cause

your route

Our usual route will take you to the islands of Brac & Hvar, as well as stops on the mainland coast.

Due to weather we cannot guarantee the exact route each week, but typically we'll visit Supetar on Brac on Sunday, Hvar Town Monday, Bol (Brac Island) Tuesday, boat parties under the stars on a Wednesday and visit Primeston on a Thursday for our final night party

*the map is for excitement purposes and should not be used for navigation!

respect the area & keep safe

respect the area

stay hydrated

don't litter

personal responsibility

Your safety is of paramount importance to us. We are not here to mother you and there is a huge amount of personal responsibility that must be taken on board by each and every person. Look after each other

water safety

Please remember that you are surrounded by water, which adds a certain 'danger' level to the holiday, particularly when drinking is involved. Look after yourself and each other. Take care around the water, stepping on and off your yacht and walking on pontoons

drinking: the rules

1. Do not sail your yacht if you have been drinking.
2. Do not swim in the ocean if you have been drinking.
3. Do not operate a dinghy, with or without an outboard engine if you have been drinking.
4. If drinking on board your yacht at night when at anchor, we ask that you wear a lifejacket. You may look a bit silly but hey, it's worth it
- 5: Please be careful in shallow waters- do not dive in!

top tips for enjoying your week

extra things you can do

be your own DJ:

Don't forget to curate your own Spotify playlist with your fave banging tunes for pure positive vibes. Some of the boats will have bluetooth but bring an aux cord with you to be safe.

hang with the flotilla. we're a force on the move:

Expect there to be a flotilla of boats on your week, each sailing independently. Throw yourself into our specially designed evening events to get to know everyone. You never know, you might meet your besties for life...

don't risk low battery mode:

Although there will be USB ports on board, you might want to bring a battery pack to make sure your phone stays powered, so you can capture those all-important 'gram-worthy pics and vids

no roads (or sea sickness) where we're going.

We sail on flat waters like a lake, so you're unlikely to suffer from seasickness. If you are prone to being a bit queasy on boats, bring some Stugeron and stay on deck when the yachts are moving.

want even more adrenaline?

Speak to a member of the team to book even more thrilling watersports or land adventures like Vespa riding, jet skiing or paragliding.

learn the lingo:

Check out our lowdown on all sea terms. Think pirates after a few beers.

swap suitcases for soft luggage:

the cabins are cosy and the storage is tricky for hard cases so bring duffels or backpacks instead.

card/party games:

To liven up those drinking games.

keep in touch:

Use a WhatsApp group for your everyone on your yacht, to easily communicate plans throughout the week.

sunscreen sunscreen sunscreen:

we cannot emphasize this enough

get on the road, sorry, sea:

Aim to leave between 10/11am each morning. It's easy to lounge around until after mid-day, but the yachts need to get into harbour and are parked by 4/5 most days, so don't waste valuable swim time hanging around each morning.

don't lose your boat:

On arrival, take a photo of your yacht name (it's on the back of the yacht) and save the photo as your screen saver on your phone. All yachts look very similar when you're returning back to them after a couple of drinks, things can get a little tricky sometimes
